Art Unit: 3731

Claims 10-13 and 16 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on Jan. 12, 2007. The mere statement "is respectively traversed" is not a proper traverse.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 15 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 15, lines 6-7, "in a non-overlapping pattern" is confusing and inaccurate since the strip overlaps the inner tubular body. Claims 19 and 20 are indefinite for the same reason.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8, 9, 15 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Banas et al. (6,264,684). Banas et al. disclose combining a non-continuous polytetrafluoroethylene tubular outer body (the radially outer portion of cladding 11) over a substantially continuous polytetrafluoroethylene tubular inner body 12 wherein the outer body and inner body support a distensible support structure 14 therebetween, the outer body completely covering the distensible support structure 14, the outer body being formed by tubularly-assembled polytetrafluoroethylene components (col. 7, line 43-46 and 50). Alternatively, it would have been obvious that tubular outer body is non-continuous due to the spacing between the helical turns. As to claim 20, Banas et al., in the embodiment of figure 9, discloses a strip side (the top side) and a stent side (the bottom side, which may be considered a stent side since the stent 49 is located closer to that side.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Banas et al. (6,264,684). Banas et al. fail to disclose forming the tubular inner body 12 by wrapping a sheet around a mandrel. However, it is old and well known to so form tubular members in order to obtain the advantage of easily manufacturing them. It would have been obvious to so form the Banas et al. tubular inner body 12 so that it too would have this advantage.
